NIGHT REPORT.—Last night was clear and cool. Eight prisoners and one lodger were at the station house.

JUNIOR O. U. A. M.—Alexandria Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., was instituted in the same building (Sarepta) they now occupy on the 17th of September, 1893. Since then they have steadily grown to become one of the leading organizations of the city, their membership to-day numbering about 100, and they are in a healthy financial condition. At their recent anniversary meeting an appropriate resolution of thanks was adopted and sent to Rev. Mr. Benson for the able manner in which he delivered the sermon on Sunday evening, September 17th. Their 3d anniversary celebration Thursday evening was marked by many addresses, readings, &c. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments, &c., were served, after which the assemblage adjourned in the wee hours of the morning.

THE MARKET to-day was well supplied with vegetables, fruits, country produce, &c., and there was a large attendance of country people, while the buyers were numerous, most of the city people having returned from their summer vacation. Prices as a rule are about the same as those which have prevailed for the past few weeks, but some articles were higher. Butter sold at 25a30c a pound, eggs 20a22c a dozen, chickens 25a30c a piece, peaches 40a60c a peck, pears 25a50c a peck, apples 20a30c a peck, egg plants 2a10c each, potatoes, sweet and Irish, 20a30c a peck, tomatoes 20a30c a peck, lima beans 15a 20c a quart, peas 8a10c a quart, corn 10a20c a dozen. The supply of butchers' meats was good and there was quite a variety of fresh fish.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Thos. Semmes has returned from Upperville and resumed his studies at the Theological Seminary.

Mr. Donald McLean, of Fairfax, will, it is understood, enter upon the discharge of the duties of storekeeper at the Mahoneyville distillery between the 1st and 15th prox.

Miss Tena Schuler has returned to the city after three months' pleasuring at Sea Isle, N. J.

Miss Kate Goodrich, who was seriously injured by falling from a tree about two weeks ago, is rapidly improving and is now able to move about her room.

Mrs. John L. Smith is quite ill at her residence on north Fairfax street.

LIMBURGER CHEESE.—An Irishman entered the restaurant of a well-known Teuton on Royal street yesterday and called for a glass of beer and a sandwich. The proprietor stated that he could furnish only a limburger and which. The Irishman said it was not fit to eat, that even a dog would not eat it. The proprietor, somewhat nettled, took a piece of the cheese and throwing it to a dog in the room said: "See now if a dog won't eat it," and turned to wait upon another customer, but in a minute or two returned and asked, "Did the dog eat it?" "Yes," replied the Irishman, "he ate it, but look at him, he is looking for the mustard pot to take the taste out of his mouth."

A youth named John Gray fell through the hatchway at the store of Messrs. N. Lindsey & Co. to-day and was quite badly, though not seriously hurt.

The streets presented quite an animated appearance to-day. There were numbers of country people in the city, many of whom were making their fall purchases.

The city warrants drawn to-day for the paying of corporation officers, policemen &c., and the school warrants, were paid at the First National Bank as City Treasurer Lunt is not yet well enough to make arrangements to pay such warrants at the city treasury.

Letter from Fauquier.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

MARSHALL, September 29, 1893.—The late supplementary edition of the GAZETTE with a picture of Alexandria, and the interesting review of her business interests was an agreeable surprise, and awakened anew the recollections of the old and the new Alexandria and of the GAZETTE—now being read by the grandchildren of its original patrons in Fauquier. Lately a fair reader said of the editorials: "They are the curtest and most pepperish productions I ever read."

The autumn weather, after abundant rains, seems now fairly set in with cool nights and shortening days. Our farmers, it is said, will gather fair crops of corn this season, though the fodder was much shattered by the equinoctial gales during the present month.

At present the shipping of fat cattle and of wheat to market and hauling grain and seeding the wheat crop constitute the heavy toil of the farmer.

During the late summer our neighborhood has had a larger number of visitors than perhaps at any former period. Nearly every house has had its boarders. At Shelburne, Dr. Rozelle's, were Mr. Washington and family, of Alexandria; at Yelverton, Mrs. Peyton's, Mr. Walter Hewing and family, and Mrs. Robertson; at Edinboro, Mr. Robt. Peyton's, Mr. Fitch and family and other families from Washington and Georgetown at Mountain View are Mr. R. H. Horner, Mr. Frank H. Wythe and family.

Amid the social entertainments, lawn tennis parties, picnics and fairs gotten up by the friends of the Episcopal and other churches of Marshall, the young people have had a most enjoyable time, and can now, doubtless, return to the more serious duties of life.

Under the regime of Superintendent W. C. Marshall our public schools are again open, and neither white nor black need grow up in ignorance.

Bethel Military Academy has a fair number of cadets to begin with—Col. M. J. Jenkins, commandant, and a corps of able instructors in all departments of learning.

An effort has been made by the Alumni Auxiliary Association of Fauquier county of the University of Virginia to establish a centre for University extension system work at Warrenton.

The Sons of the American Revolution and the daughters also are busy in our midst. At some future time will be given the names of individual chapters in this section of the State.

Dr. Clark, of the Plains, was so fortunate as to attend the late Pan-American Medical Congress in Washington.

A larger delegation of doctors of our county will attend the meeting of the Medical Society October 3rd at Charlottesville.

Our small boys, as well as small girls, are miserable because, they complain, they have always to go to school. H.
